1 trouble come see you?

2 Mr. Houston. Oh, no, there's a number of times. For
3 instance, I think it was back in the '50's, there's a lot of 4 them, but a couple might illustrate -- in those days we were
5 doing a good deal of political action abroad in the sense of
6 giving guidance to factions in foreign countries that U.S.
7 policy favored in organizing elections. I don't mean in
8 rigging them, but how to get down to the grass roots, the old-
9 fashioned political advice on how to run a political campaign.

10 We didn't have many trained officers on this. We had 11 one or two who were excellent and they wanted more, and they
12 came to me with the proposition that -- this was an election year,
13 which one I have forgotten -- that we put officers in both the 14 Republican and Democratic campaign parties to get the practical
15 experience, and I advised -- actually, I went over and talked
16 with Malcolm Wilkie, who was then the legal counsel in the 17 Department of Justice, and this was most ill-advisable, and I
18 went back and they dropped the project.

However, this immediately got us into an internal security and a police function. I told them they had to drop it, and they did. And it's too bad, because nobody else has found a way of doing it, and this information is floating over our heads right now and we cannot use it.

Mr. Schwarz. Have there been any instances where you or your office advised the Agency that it should not do something when nevertheless the Agency went ahead and did it?

Mr. Houston. I should think I would remember an occasion like that, but I don't.

Senator Mondale. Thank you.

(Senator Mondale left the hearing room.)

Mr. Schwarz. Mr. Houston, with the Senator absent, you don't have to go ahead.

Mr. Houston. Fine, fine.

Mr. Schwarz. I'm going to go on to another subject. Does anyone else have anything else about the Robert Kennedy meeting?

Mr. Kirbow. I have only one other question, and perhaps more about the leadership of the Agency.

Mr. Houston, your reputation over the some twenty-six twenty-eight years you were General Counsel was one of intense loyalty to the Director and the Deputy Director of the Agency.

Mr. Houston. That is correct.

1 chest operator, but so far as I know he always operated in the
2 line of command, and something like this I think I should have
3 been consulted, but I can understand the operator's viewpoint.
4 They might have felt there were reasons why I should not be
5 consulted.

6 But just what went on in the line of command between
7 Harvey and the Director I just cannot fathom this.

8 Mr. Schwarz. Harvey worked for Helms at the time, did
9 he not?

10 Mr. Houston. That's right.

11 Mr. Schwarz. And what was the nature of their relationship
12 as you understood it?

13 Mr. Houston. They were not too compatible as people, but 14 I have never known that there was any difficulty in complying
15 with the chain of command. I wouldn't necessarily have known
16 if there had been, but I didn't know it.

17 Mr. Wides. And Harvey had worked for Mr. Helms in Berlin?

18 Mr. Houston. He had been Chief of Station in Berlin,
19 he had been Chief of Station in Rome, and I think it was after 20 the Rome assignment he came back and took over the staff.

21 Mr. Wides. But in connection with some of the operations
22 like the Berlin Tunnel and other intelligence operations he
23 had a pretty close-working relationship with Mr. Helms?

24 Mr. Houston. They were all in the DDP and certainly
25 anything of the importance of the Berlin Tunnel, they would be

1 could you think of anything which would be of benefit to this
2 Committee that we have not inquired into?

3 Mr. Houston. The only thing I thought you might ask that --
4 I thought you were going to mention it -- somewhere, and this is
5 very vague in my mind, both where I heard it, in what context,
6 and what the timing of the event was, but I have heard and I am
7 sure you must have heard of the delivery of a sniper's rifle
8 to the Embassy in Havana, which may have been intended for 9 some sort of assassination attempt.

10 Mr. Schwarz. The Embassy when we still had an Embassy
11 there?

12 Mr. Houston. It was apparently when we still had the 13 Embassy.

14 Mr. Kirbow. Was this a couched delivery, covert
15 delivery, much like the later deliveries into the Dominican
16 Republic?

17 Mr. Houston. I think so.

18 I don't know much about it. I just, through a vague
19 recollection, I don't know any details or any specifics, it's 20 one of the things you pick up.

21 Mr. Kirbow. When would that have been? I am trying to 22 date when we no longer had an Embassy there.

23 Mr. Wides. Mr. Noll, I think Mr. Noll was the Station
24 Chief, Jim Noll, and I believe he left in late 1959.

25 Mr. Kirbow. Was that about the correct time?
